EXECUTION

Ultra-luxury specification delivered for a VIP GC partner.

Panther National is a private golf community in Palm Beach Gardens developed to a specification level that ranks among the most demanding in Palm Beach County. The centerpiece clubhouse demanded exacting execution from every subcontractor on site. American Commercial Glass was selected as the Division 08 subcontractor by Verdex Construction — one of ACG's most important general contractor relationships.

The glazing scope encompassed the full commercial glazing package for the clubhouse structure, coordinated from early design development through final installation. Palm Beach County's coastal exposure requirements and the project's ultra-luxury spec combined to create a scope where product selection, coordination precision, and installation quality were all held to a higher standard than typical commercial work.

"Verdex holds its subcontractors to a standard that reflects the client they're building for. Panther National required ACG to perform at that level across every phase."

RESULT

Completed to specification. VIP GC relationship strengthened.

ACG delivered the Panther National Clubhouse glazing scope to specification, on schedule, and in alignment with Verdex Construction's project management requirements. The project is a reference-grade example of ACG's capability in the ultra-luxury segment and a demonstration of the operational standard ACG brings to VIP GC relationships.
